

The Giving Binder

From Your Girly Pop: Edward

Nice things to Amy:

Amy,

This time last week I was super excited to go see you and now this week I am super excited for this letter and getting to see you next week. Only a few more days girly pop!!!! I really hope you enjoyed your classes so far and I hope the week was giving. I know some shitty things happened and some really shady shit, but I know it's going to get better. As I try to outline this week's letter and make it giving I wasn't too sure on where to start but I think after some time thinking I got it. So let's get started!

I first want to thank you for this past weekend, I know I've said it a lot, but Amy I cannot stress it enough. I had fun just being with you popping pussy and just being giving. I just want to go back to see you again and to build a Lego or paint or make your room even more giving. It was one of the best times with you and the memories are made in my head for good and I cannot stress how thankful I am of you and sorry for allowing me to do that. Now the weekend had its moments of drama and I just want to say a few things

Let me begin by saying this is nothing but how I see things and I am just being honest with you. Okay, you're not a therapist, a charity, or somebody who doesn't need to gain weight. You are the most pure and beautiful people I know, and I feel honored to know you. You're supportive and you help but you are not a fucking therapist and I think that was a comment that even made me uncomfortable. It makes me sad when you tell me how your friends always ignore what you say about your problems, but you have to deal with them and then when you bring it up you somehow are the bad guy. Now I don't say this because I don't want you to tell me, I say this because you're such an amazing person and people just don't see that, and they see you as an escape and it's just downright disrespectful. Now I understand somebody getting sad and wanting to talk, we all get sad but seeing how it happens to you I just want you to know that you're so much more than that.

Also, you're not a fucking charity either and I think that some people need to mind their own business and stop trying to be part of everything you do. You're a really great person helping others and that's why I like to spoil you and help you with anything I can. And I don't want you to think that I do it because you're a charity and if I do anything like that let me know. Amy I spoil and spend on you because of the impact that you had on me especially this time around. I spend some money on you because I see everything you do for others and I just want to do something for you. You're special to me so I like to spoil you and get you stuff to put a smile on your face like you do for me.

Now I know you've felt bloated and apparently you can't eat because we don't need you to gain weight, but I think it's time I speak up. Amy you know I think you're beautiful and perfect, but I never go deeper into it so please, let me. Let's start with your giving hair, no matter how you wear it you just look amazing. When it's down and has layers and you shake your head I just fold and smile. When it's up in a bun or just tied and looks a little messy but neat I just love it because I can see that beautiful face and you just look so damn good. Next is those eyes and your eyebrows. I love to see a girl take care of herself but you, the way you always make sure you're giving makes me so happy because I can see how much work you do and its honestly the best I've seen a girl do. Your natural beauty and the way you present yourself just makes me weak at the knees. Your face is perfect. Your eyes are so pretty to look at, your smile is so big ear to ear, your cheeks are so cute and look so fluffy (in a great way), and just overall the structure of your face is beautiful. You are so damn fine Amy. Now I know with this next part I've always been like "uhm idk how to complement it without being wired" so I will just say these few things. Your body is fucking perfect. She has the curves, the giving fits, and its just perfect. As we know I don't like white girls for many reasons, but one is because they can be built like a skeleton and its nasty. But you, perfect. Even when you say your bloated all I can think about is how pretty you are and now nice your waist and belly are. Yes I said belly its one of my favorite features on you because its perfect, idk how to explain it. You have the nicest hands that are soft, a great smile, legs are giving too so wear that dress or shorts you're giving as fuck. Listen Amy, no matter what anybody says I will never think your ugly, big, bloated, or cant gain weight because you're perfect no matter how you are. I love everything about you.

Now I've talked about your physical appearance now let's talk about the personality of yours that makes me really love our friendship. Yes I can say your cool and nice or something and leave it at that, but this letter isn't about that. Amy you are one of the funniest, kindest, and most caring people that I know. You always make me smile or laugh because of your scarsim or you bullying me because you make it funny, somehow...I guess that's one of your many superpowers. You also have one of the kindest hearts, at least to me, that I've ever experienced. You've done something that not many people have, and you mean it too, you show me that you care that at the end of the day I know you care that I am safe and in a good mindset and that means the world to me. Just the simple text or things you say about how nice I am just make my fucking day, week, year. You've shown me what a true friend is and yes it hasn't always been sunshine and rainbows but look where we're at now. I haven't felt this close with somebody since I had a girlfriend. I haven't trusted somebody this much. You as a person, just being that amazing person that you are have made me a better and more giving person. I say you're special to me all the time and I don't just mean I care about you. I say you're special to me because I care so much about you, I'd do anything for you, and I know you'd do the same for me and it's not just you that's special, but this entire friendship. We built something last year and it fell down and yet here we are, and I think we were meant to be friends or be in each other's lives somehow. Our friendship that we have where we trust and communicate with each other is something I cherish so much. I love how honest you are with me and how you also put in the effort to be an amazing friend. Amy I can't speak for you, but I wouldn't want this to be any other way except stronger and that's the way I see it going. I said how I use the word Love with you and that I don't like that word. Well I didn't like it because it lost its meaning to me after my ex, but I found its meaning again. Love isn't always somebody you're dating to me it's somebody I care so much about that I would do anything for them no matter what. I will cry with you, laugh with you, fight with you, and fight for you. Amy you are MY girly pop, MY number one, MY best friend, MY queen and you're MY world and MY everything. I always think of you, and I always want the best for you and I see everything you go through and I know by seeing how you hand it one day soon you will be one of the more important people in the world running the top companies because of that passion and drive I see in you. You don't give up, you don't quit, and that's why I will never give up on you and I will ALWAYS fight with you. I want nothing but the best for you and I hope I can give you everything that you give me. The thought of being with you, talking to you or anything to do with you just makes me smile and I don't think people see how good you are and they're missing out on the best person every. I just need you to know that you're the most important person in my life and no matter what people say or do to you I will always be right here because I love you Amy, I really care about you.

Love Your Girly Pop, BFF, Asst. HA, Mechanic, and Slut'

If it was up to me. I'd stay with you this whole semester. Hell Amy if I need to I'll ride my fucking bike to you. You don't understand. I know how much it sucks to be a lone. Im not letting you get that feeling. So no matter what the circumstances are. No matter how busy I am or what's going on. I will always and I mean always be here for you. I care a lot about my girly pop and you're just way too good of a person to see bad things happen too. So no matter what I'm going to be here. And the people who hurt you, leave you, or do anything to you don't even realize what they're losing. They don't understand that you're the most giving and caring person. That you know what true friendship is and they just don't know that that is. You're the best girly pop ever and I just know that great things are going to happen to you and for you. You're just the best and have every good trait a friend has and I feel honored to be able to say that you're my friend and that this friendship is really special to me, so special that I even used the L word because I love my girly pop. And I'll do anything for her and her kid. Her mom. Whatever she needs

Amy. You're so much to me. Like I can't even begin to describe it. So if I can do this and out a smile on your face I'm gonna do it because to me that's the world. Your happiness and having something to look forward to something to have that just can make ur day that much better is everything to me

---

This. This girl right here. That smile on ur face. I just want her to have everything she's ever wanted and I want to treat her like the queen that she is. And i just want to treat her how she always should be. Not like these other shitty people. You deserve so much and I just wanna give you that. Everything you ever wanted.

Your friendship to me means so much and the things you've done for me and my life can never compare to the few bucks I spend

Amy

Your father put on your hubcaps as where my father owns hubcaps. But hubcaps was just the beginning on this amazing weekend with you. It started off really annoying on Friday but you got through it and you go to Newark. Ahhh girly pop is here! Just seeing you and your kid really put a smile on my face. And you were giving as fuck. But once the drive started it was annoying heat very fun. It was long but I enjoyed just talking and having your company. You did very very good too and I'm really proud of you for that. I know Friday was kinda ghetto parking 10000 miles away but we still got through it. Pizza Hut was also ghetto but we still had some good pizza and little bites. I really enjoyed our foodie Friday of pizza, switched at birth, and spending time with you.

Time with you is what this whole weekend was about and just making sure you have a giving dorm and a really great way to start off the semester. It had been awhile since we did hang out and this is the longest you've been around me but you did it!! Saturday was really fun for a lot of reasons. First off you were giving as fuck. You also did really good driving and honestly some of these roads I wouldn't have even been so confident on but you're just amazing. Also Saturday we went to the mall and some stores and it honestly just felt like a normal day back home how we would hang out and I missed that. Ugh then the tacos were giving as fuck and just that whole restaurant of white girls really wasn't. But again you were giving as fuck. Then there's bowling and that stupid claw game, I know I couldn't win you a stuffed animal but I had a lot of fun. Even though it was gutter ball after gutter ball it was fun a lot of fun and I can't wait to do a lot more things like that with you.

Sunday was a really good day too we got to go out a little but it was mostly time spent with you just hanging around talking and yes something's were annoying or sad or had that day but I really appreciate you for being there for me. And I hope Dillan can learn how to watch what he says and if you ever need anything you text me. About anything. But Sunday was just a good day. Legos, açai bowls, and again just spending time with you bullying me and making me smile. I know Sunday night when you lose the charm it was sad but it's okay. I'll pay you for the new star and your moon is coming soon. But Sunday did end on a really nice note, just sitting looking at dresses and laughing at people's shitty ass wigs or that random ass kid. The. You read me a bedtime story and if I'm being honest that shit working bc I got to the floor and then boom lights out. Sunday was really really fun.

I do have to leave you Monday, today, and I don't want to. I want to stay here with you because it's fun and giving. I just know I'm gonna be jumping up and down until I can see you again, at home or coming here. And yes I know we're going to ft and talk, be homework girly pops, but nothing beats sleeping on the run and having this time with you. I can't say thank you enough for this weekend and everything you've done. Thank you for diving me here, letting me come in the first place, making me a sandwich, allowing me to eat your snacks, and letting me help with whatever you needed. I rate this weekend 1000000000000/10 because nothing will ever compare to you or this time. You're my girly pop and a really good one. You're my special block. And I just want you to know you'll never be along ever. Physically yes you may be, but you know where to find me. Text me or call me or tell me to get the fuck on a train. I'll do it. I care a lot about you Amy and I wish you nothing but the best luck, motivation, and success this semester. Keep popping pussy, and keep being giving. If you ever need anyone, anything, or help just know you still have AAA, Anything. Anytime. Amy. Keep popping your pussy and just be you. You're amazing and I can't thank you enough. Love you girly pop!!

With love your girly pop and Asst. HA(322),

Amy I know it's a lot. But I'd like to say a few things. First I'm really proud of you, for many things. First off the Lucy thing was scary and you got her back in the dorm. Now I promise that it's going to be okay. You blocked the door for a little now and I ordered some gates and everything for you. I'm also proud of you for putting up the name tags and not pushing it off till tomorrow it's good that you got it done. And the last thing I'm really proud of you for telling Dillan how you truly feel and how you did T really sugar coat it. I'm happy because you didn't hide how you felt and personally I think it's the most progress you had with him about all this. I'd also like to say something else. I know there's a lot going on and you're doing really well handling everything however I do think that the added stress or the added pressure with Dillan isn't helping. Especially last night. That's why I said I'm really proud for speaking your mind and with everything going on I want you to know that no matter what you can come to me and it will never be too much. I promise. You're my special block and I will do anything to keep you happy. My girly pop is a queen and I will treat her like that too! I care about you and I want the best for you. Sally too girly, if there's anything I can do for you or her. Let me know. I'll do it

Let that stress fall on me and off of you. It's something I'm here for because that's not good for you to deal with alone

Last night when you said goodnight I asked if you were up because I wanted to tell you this.

Amy you're right, friendship is quality > quantity and I must say that the quality of our friendship is the best of the best. I can't thank you enough for everything you do. The way you help and talk to me and point out that it's going to be okay and that I'm better off. And I really just know that our friendship is one that is just so perfect, like you, and I can't thank you enough. I just like every thing about it and you set me standards for friends so high which is amazing. You taught me to know my worth. And the quality of bullying you provide me makes me feel like a real friend. The best part is you're not living a lie like these other whores. I appreciate you and your honesty and I just want you to know that you and this friendship is so special to me and I wouldn't give it up for anybody or anything. You show me that you care and you just do so much and it's the best. You put that smile on my face and make me laugh with how funny you are. I appreciate you so much and if I'm 1% as good as a friend as you then I'd be lucky. Thank you girly pop. And I can't wait as I see you very very soon!!!!

(Read the website first)

Amy,

You fell asleep watching TikTok so I turned everything off, locked ur phone, and typed this for you 🥰 and then fell asleep because I didn't wanna bother you for anything.

So another amazing weekend has come and gone, yes we have one more day and I will detail my gratitude with another message for you. As for now I would just like to say how amazing everything has been here with you and just tell you how much everything brightens my day. First off Friday, was just a day full of popping my pussy all over the place. From the moment I saw you my mood changed and I just got that feeling of relief as I was fully with you again and that's all I could ever ask for. Going for breakfast, barns and noble, and bullying live laugh love shit at home goods was just fun and it was a great way to start off the weekend. Then we played our little game and I must say that game made me realize how close we really are and it just made me happy. Honestly for me that wasn't even the start of the weekend. Thursday being on the phone with you when I was going home from school and then when I was home packing and talking to you was just also really nice. And if you want to I'll do that every day whenever you want, if you just need somebody to talk to or just knowing someone is there call me whenever. Now Friday was just a giving ass day and it felt like good ole times. Target, Pizza Hut, Wendy's and just being around you. What I enjoy most is your company and Friday night doing your nails and stacking switched at birth was just really fun because I got to make the nails giving and I got to just be around you. We didn't even really talk about anything I just enjoyed that time and I will never forget it. Your friends are also pretty cool and from what I can tell genuine people so I'm really happy about that too. We also got my chain after walking a million miles in the mall but it's giving as fuck and I love it!!! Friday was just giving and I won't forget it. The nails and that time was my favorite part of it all.

Saturday was fun because again we got to do something to make you feel better about yourself and I got to spend that quality time with you. You got a nice ass wax and food and I got time with you and learned a new skill that I really need to improve on. Yes while you worked it was sucky but I took a nap and then we got to go to... COTTON ON, and yes the mall was ghetto as fuck but you got your giving ass black jeans. Then we did like a very small bit of homework and then go karting and before I get to that I have to say something. Your driving has been amazing and to me you get like a 97% driving score, only because sometimes the turns could have been a bit less sharp however you're learning the area so that's fine. But your parking, highway driving, and parallel parking are all fucking perfect. Now Saturday night was just giving, we did shit in basketball and then we raced. ZOOMMMMMMMMM so fucking fast and it was really fun. I really enjoyed what was next tho, getting you alcohol and tacos!! (Btw I will be sending all that money back). The tacos were so fucking giving, unlike the salsa, and again just talking to you and being with you. Givingggggg. Then we did homework for real and you're really smart, you explained everything to me that I asked and you even dumbed it down for me. You also read really fast which I'm jealous of :( Tbh en we built none other than ROKO BEAR and just building legos with you is fun and just time to unwind and relax. Also the Montclair state dad hoodie looks so good on you.

Amy all I'm trying to say is that I look forward to these trips every day the second I get home and I look forward to talking to you. You really can just make a weekend giving and just make me pop pussy all over the place. You're my girly pop and just my best friend. The only one that I need because you're just giving all around. I just wanted to say how proud I am of you for everything, school, work, driving, looking giving. You just amaze me every day with the shit you do and popping pussy. I really do cherish the time I have with you and just being around you. You're my special block, my queen, the best mom, the best godmother, the most giving, best best friend, and the person I am so excited to see succeed. You, our time together, and everything else we do means so much and will hold a special place on my heart and mind (core memory). You're the best and if you ever need anything you can ask and come to me. Whenever you need. I care about you, want the best for you, and I really hold you and Lucy and sally all close to me and my heart ❤️. I love you girly pop 💕

Love your girly pop,
Edward

Okay girly pop this is gonna be a little heavy but I think its good for you to hear I want you to know that blood doesn't mean someboyds family. It doesnt mean you have some big lifelong commitment to them. Family isnt blood, its relationships you have with peopple and take that from this family espically. My mom technicly isn't my bllood related mom my biological mom. Yet shes my mom and the only one I want, because of the reationship and bond I have with her. Our father isnt my father because I share blood with him, hes my father because he taught me how to be kind, how to control myself, and how to be the best person I can be. My sister isnt my sister because we share a parent, shes my sister because she played with me as a kid, stood up for me when I needed it, and she was always there to call me ugly. Family isnt somthing that can be defined by blood or shared DNA or however that biology shit works. And this fmaily right here is a prime example of that. The reationship you have with Sally is something that when I frist met you I admired because its not something thats common anymore. And I know it may feel like your family turned their backs on you and they did, however theyre not family. They are just people you know and share blood with. It was once said that if you like somebody it means so much more than loving somebody because you may say you love your Aunt or something yet you hate them, but if you say you like somebody it means more because you can stand them. I know that it may seem like hell right now but you need to know that no matter what happens with Justin, your aunt, or ur grandma it doesn't matter. They are't real family. They lie, say what they think you want to hear, and are bias. But just because they arent in your life or you don't speak to them doesnt mean shit. You have a fmaily right here. Our fthaer, my mom, my sister, chippy, roko, and me. And this isn't anything new. I remeber when it was raining hard one day at IGA and you had to walk home but didn't have an unbrella. I remember texting our father and asking to give you a ride and he didnt hesitate to say yes. Our father doesn't see you as just my friend, he sees my sister in you and thinks and cares about you like his own daughter. My mom thinks of you whenever he has clothes or anything shes looking to give away. She asks me about you at school all the time. I know you dont know my sister too well but I know if you ever needed to talk she would make the time for you. This idea I had of AAA for you started as me just helping you however I could however that evloved. Everybody here cares about you, we all want the best for you, and hinely if we had photos of you Im sure they would be hung up next to me and my sister. You're part of this family, you may not live here, you dont have any blood relating you to any of us, and you may of not know us for that long. Yet you;re family. Ive never seen our father help one of my friends as much as he has for you. We all care about you, we all want the best for you, and we will all always be here. Now girly pop I want you to know something. I don't just see you as my friend or even my best friend. Ive always seen you as something more, and I know what that is, you're family. You're like a sister to me. I will drop whatever I am doing to help you, I will fight for you till the end of time. And I want You to know that I love you and no like a relationship, but like family. If you ever need anything you call me, text me, or even our fthaer, my mom, my sister. You have everyones number not just to sit in your phone but to help you. Being told that you need help and you have issues was disrepectful. But you know what, Im fucking proud of you because not only did you see somebody about it, you have a journal and you're trying your best and I have seen nothing but pure improvement from you and I am so fucking Pussy Popping Proud of you. Justin needs to grow up, your aunt needs to see theres two sides to every story and she needs to stay true to what she says, and your grandma needs to know that just because somebody seems kind and tells lie, doesnt mean theyre a good person, like you. I will always support you , fight with you, and I will always be here for you girly pop you're my #1 and you're everything to me. Fuck whatever they say because I know you're going to be something they could only dream of. Im proud of you and no matter what you do I know you're a better person then them and Sally knows that too. Just know you have this family here for you and we all care a lot about you and just know I love you as my girly pop and my everything 💕❤
